Roundtables

People of Color

Hosted by the People of Color Advisory Committee

Presented by the Out & Equal POC Advisory Committee, this discussion focused on the POC experience within the LGBTQ+ community sharing best practices from ERGs that have been more inclusive of racial diversity, understand the layers of intersectionality within our own identification, allyship, and building bridges that support corporate and community partnerships.

Transgender Inclusion

Hosted by Transgender Advisory Committee

Members of the Out & Equal Transgender Advisory Committee discussed ways in which a business provides a setting to foster recognition and provides a growth environment for its transgender employees, respects and retains transgender customers and address possible conflict within its own organization.

Recruitment

Hosted by Krystal Mills (PNC) and Joshua Stewart (PNC)

Facilitated by PNC Bank, this Roundtable discussed how other companies are redirecting their marketing strategies to recruit top LGBT talent from across the country sharing obstacles faced when recruiting job seekers in the LGBT community and how to work with different departments to leverage company commitment to diversity.

Bisexual

Hosted by Bisexual Advisory Committee

The Out & Equal Bisexual Advisory Committee led a roundtable discussion geared towards sharing common experiences, the challenges of inclusivity within the broader LGBT community, and raising awareness by breaking down stereotypes and misconceptions.

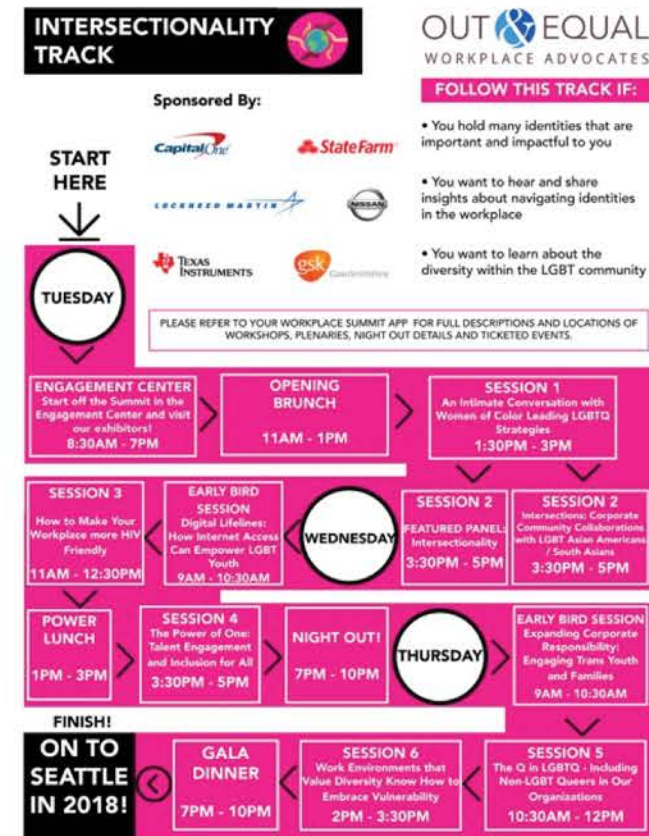

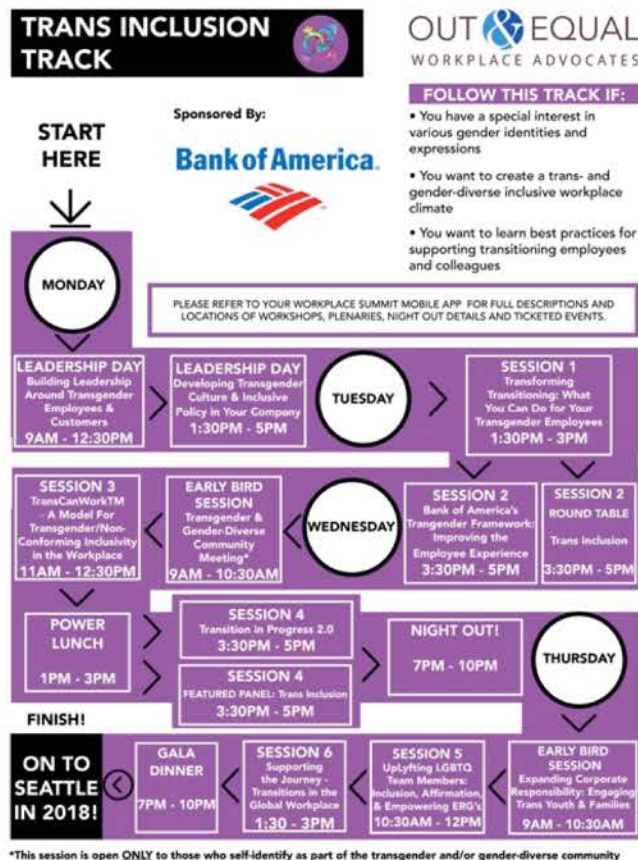

Transgender & Gender-Diverse Community Meeting

Hosted by Transgender Advisory Committee

The Out & Equal Transgender Advisory Committee led a discussion on workplace dynamics with a focus on creating dialogue to improve employment opportunities. Out & Equal's role in this dialogue was also discussed. This session was only open to those who self-identified as part of the transgender and/or gender-diverse community.

GLOBAL HIGHLIGHTS

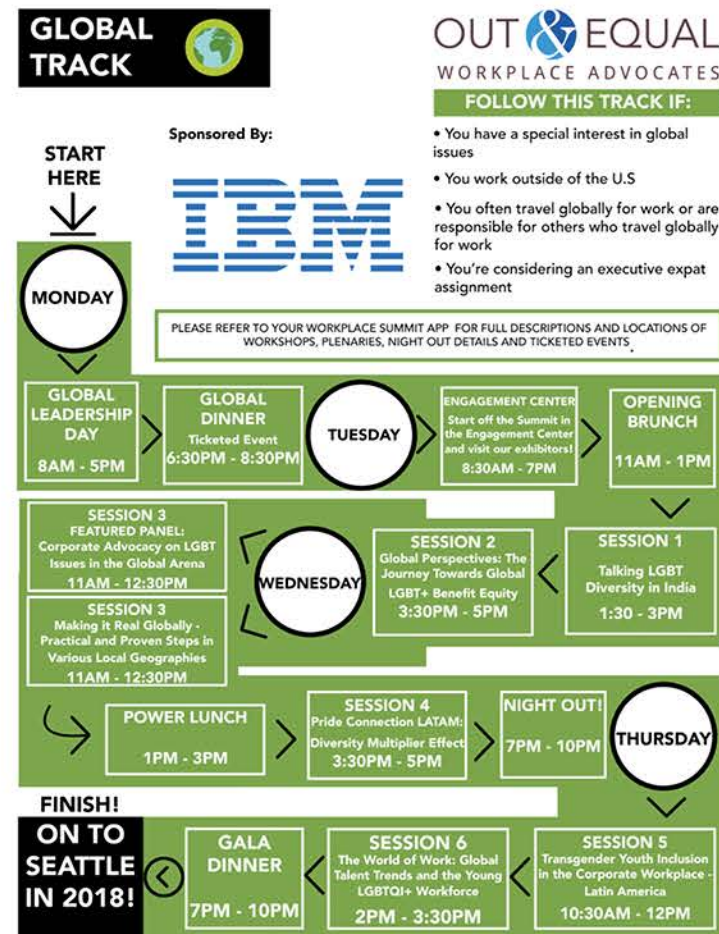

The 2017 Workplace Summit was our most global ever, with the largest number of attendees from outside the U.S. of any Summit, and a huge range of globally focused content, programming and networking opportunities tailored to attendees from outside the U.S. and those working to advance LGBT equality in the global workplace.

-  42% increase in attendees from outside the U.S.
-  40% increase in countries represented at Summit
-  113% increase in Global Leadership Day attendance

GLOBAL WORKSHOP TRACK

The Global Workshop Track included workshops focused on topics and issues of particular relevance to global audiences. Some of this year's innovative panels include:

-  Global Perspectives: The Journey Towards Global LGBT Benefit Equity
-  Pride Connection Latin America: Diversity Multiplier Effect
-  Talking LGBT Diversity in India
-  The World of Work: Global Talent Trends and the Young LGBT Workforce

GLOBAL DINNER

SPONSORED BY: IBM

100+ Attendees representing more than 20 countries!

A new addition to our 2017 lineup, the Global Dinner was a special networking event for international Summit attendees and those who work in the global space. Each attendee received a flag lapel pin representing their home country to wear during the dinner.

NBC News Panel

This standing-room only workshop featured Yvette Miley, Senior Vice President of MSNBC & NBC News who facilitated a panel of NBC News and MSNBC on-air talent, news managers and influencers who shared perspectives on local laws, corporate policies, recent high court decisions and presidential mandates that challenge the universal idea of LGBT equality.

CHAMPION OF THE YEAR

Ramkrishna Sinha

Ramkrishna Sinha is the Graphics Hardware Engineer at Intel Corporation. Ramkrishna organized Intel's first participation in the Bangalore Pride Parade for 2016. He believes that as an individual he has the journey of coming out from denial to tolerance to acceptance, organizations go through a similar journey. He helped Intel come out as a LGBT friendly employer in India, which is impressive given the legal challenges and social prejudice.
